REMINDER - Register Today!
Final Information Session will be held on Wednesday, January 9th!

Together North Jersey has issued a call for applications to participate in its sustainable development Local Demonstration Project (LDP) program. The LDP program will provide technical assistance for strategic planning studies focused on designated areas or corridors associated with established or anticipated transit services and/or facilities. Eligible applicants will include municipalities, counties, non-governmental organizations, community development corporations and other interested organizations. Attendance is not required but we strongly encourage prospective applicants to attend to learn about the program and the application process. As a reminder, if you already attended an Information Session you are welcome to come to the final Information Session that will be held on January 9th to discuss further application details. The Information Session that is now scheduled for January 9th was originally scheduled for November 7th but due to Hurricane Sandy had to be cancelled.

Feel free to tell others about the Information Session as well.
To register for the final Information Session: www.njscc-ldp.com.

Final Information Session
January 9, 2013
Registration at 8:30am
9am-12pm

Raritan Valley Community College
Conference Center
Room A
118 Lamington Road
Branchburg, NJ

Please Note- The deadline for the first round of LDP applications has been extended from Monday, January 7th to Monday, February 4th. This round will result in the selection of up to seven LDPs. Because of the disruption caused by the Hurricane and continuing recovery efforts in storm-ravaged areas in the region, Together North Jersey is announcing a second round of applications, due Monday, April 8th. This round will result in the selection of the remaining projects.
For more information on the RPSD or LDP, visit Together North Jersey

ANNOUNCEMENT

The American Planning Association - New Jersey Chapter is pleased to announce a new round of the Community Planning Assistance Program (CPAP), which provides pro bono planning assistance to municipalities and/or community-based organizations (CBOs) that need planning support to address specific problems or challenges. The CPAP can address a myriad of planning needs, including but not limited to: visioning, community design, transportation, parking, transit-oriented development, economic development, art development programs, and environmental resource protection. While all of these issues will be considered, the 2013 CPAP is also emphasizing recovery planning and hazard mitigation in communities that are addressing issues related to Hurricane Sandy. The primary goal of the program is to make planning resources available to municipalities and CBOs that would otherwise not have access to these services. Municipalities and CBOs are selected through a formal evaluation process conducted by APA-NJ.

The CPAP is an intensive 2 to 4 day planning exercise, during which the chosen municipality or CBO will receive assistance from a team of distinguished, experienced planners to create a plan. The workshop will include public information-gathering sessions, stakeholder interviews, planning work sessions, and a final presentation detailing the recommendations of the planning assistance team. The community will receive a report that summarizes the planning process, and if applicable, rendered design concepts, implementation strategies, as well as professional services recommendations and cost estimates for implementation.
