NJCM POST STORM SANDY INFORMATION BULLETIN

FCC TO KICK OFF HURRICANE SANDY FIELD HEARINGS FEB. 5

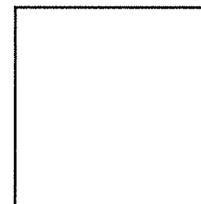

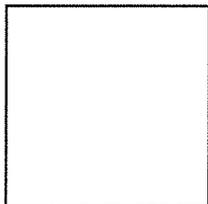

The FCC announced today that it will hold the first in a series of field hearings on Feb. 5 in New York City and Hoboken, NJ on the impact of last fall's Hurricane Sandy and challenges to U.S. communications infrastructure caused by such storms. The morning session of the hearing will be held at the Alexander Hamilton U.S. Customs House in New York beginning at 9 a.m. with an afternoon session to be held on the campus of Stevens Institute of Technology across the river in Hoboken beginning at 2:30 p.m. The agency said it plans to offer audio and/or video coverage of the meeting over the Internet as well at www.fcc.gov/live Further details on the hearings will be released later.
