Can cities solve the problems of the 21st century?

NLC is proud to announce that Dr. Benjamin Barber, author of If Mayors Ruled The World, will speak at our Congress of Cities Conference in November. In his book, Dr. Barber argues that local leaders like you hold the power to change the country for the better. He's spent his career researching democracy and citizenship, and he's convinced that city officials will be the ones to address international problems and take on worldwide challenges.

Dr. Barber thinks you should play a more prominent role on the global stage. Hear why at his keynote address during the 2015 Congress of Cities Conference. You'll think in a whole new way about your position as a local leader, and what impact you could have on a national level.

This November in Nashville, cities are taking center stage. Visit the conference website to see your full list of workshops, plus details about our exciting host city.

Don't forget to register by July 31st for the Early Bird rate!
