From Rockefeller Center Christmas Tree to Morris Habitat for Humanity Home!

Ever wonder what happens to the Rockefeller Center Christmas Tree after the holidays? Well this year, the lumber milled from it will go to Morris Habitat for Humanity and another affiliate!! This 80 ft., 10 ton Norway spruce was donated to Rockefeller Center by Joe Balku from Flanders, NJ; so it is very fitting that it will go full circle from gracing Joe's property in Morris County to helping build an affordable home for a family in Morris County! This will be the fifth time Tishman Speyer, co-owners and managers of Rockefeller Center have donated the tree to a Habitat affiliate and the FIRST time that Morris Habitat is a recipient!!

2012 Rockefeller Center Tree

Please join us as we travel into New York City to see the tree in all its holiday glory before it is taken down and shipped to the mill. We have arranged for a bus to take Morris Habitat staff, volunteers, donors, AND their family and friends directly to Rockefeller Center. After gazing at the tree and taking some group photos, you will be free to walk around on your own to take in the sights, shop and eat until the bus leaves to return to NJ.

Seats are still available . . .Reserve NOW !

Date: Monday, January 7, 2013
Time: Bus departs promptly at 3:30 pm
Where: ReStore parking lot 274, S. Salem St., Randolph, NJ
NY Departure: Rockefeller Center at 9:30pm
Cost? $15 per person (covers the cost of the bus)

Reservations? Bus holds 55 people, so seating is limited. Reserve your spots now by RSVP'ing to Heidi Schlager at info@morrishabitat.org.

Please arrange for payment between December 30th and January 4th by either dropping your check off at the office or Restore or mailing it to: Morris Habitat 274 S. Salem St. Randolph, NJ 07869. Att: NYC Bus. Questions? Contact Heidi at 973-891-1934

We could not achieve what we do without the support of our dedicated staff, volunteers, and donors. As a member of the "Morris Habitat Family" please help celebrate this wonderful honor with us!!!

In Partnership,

Blair
