Jersey, the region looks to the future. How can planning create a more resilient region? Who will make the tough decisions? And how will they change the way people live, work, and play along the coastal shores? The American Planning Association examines the critical questions in a series of workshops focused on long-term solutions for stronger communities. Learn about:

- * Connecting disaster recovery to long-range community planning
- * Using an Interim Recovery Ordinance to resolve land-use issues
- * Finding funding and meeting state and local requirements
- * Adopting mitigation planning for more resilient communities

Registration is free, but reservations are required and seating is limited.

This series of free workshops is supported in part by The Planning Foundation's "Disaster Recovery and Planning" fund. Donate to the Foundation
