Join us for "Trust But Verify" presented by the National League of Cities and MPA@UNC

The National League of Cities has partnered with the University of North Carolina (UNC) School of Government to help employees of our member cities earn a Master of Public Administration online. As an NLC member, you are eligible to receive a $5000 scholarship if you are accepted and enroll in the UNC School of Government's innovative online MPA@UNC program.

As part of this partnership, NLC would like to invite you to join expert panelists from the UNC School of Government for "Trust but Verify," a free webinar exploring a 2011 case in which city officials discovered that a City Comptroller had embezzled $30 million from a small town's coffers in a decades-long scam. Learn what went wrong in this small-town fraud, how the city responded, and the internal controls that can protect your organization or city from similar losses.

Trust but Verify: A Case Study Webinar on Municipal Fraud
