When you attend this year's Congress of Cities and Exposition in Seattle, come early to participate in the National Summit on Your City's Families, a pre-conference event that will take place from November 12-14.

Sponsored by NLC's Institute for Youth, Education and Families, the biennial Summit is the nation's largest gathering of municipal leaders who are working to improve the lives of children, youth and families in their communities. City leaders and community partners have the option of registering for one or both events, and can take advantage of special combo registration rates.

The highly interactive format of the 2013 National Summit on Your City's Families will offer a wide variety of peer networking opportunities. Summit sessions will include:

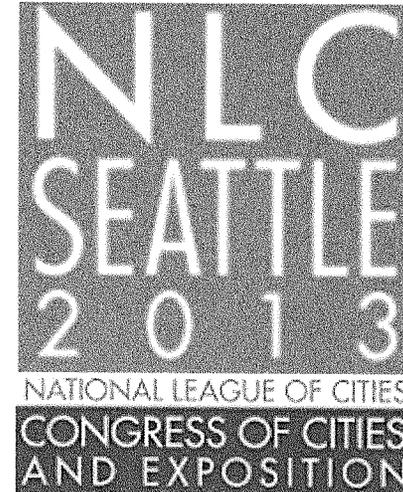

- Convenings of a revamped set of issue-focused NLC peer networks
- Interactive discussions on innovative models in America's cities and towns
- A networking luncheon highlighting leading Seattle initiatives and promoting interaction among peers who hold similar roles and responsibilities
- A benchmarking exercise in which participants will help set standards to guide local action in the nation's cities
- "Open space" discussion groups on topics selected by participants, held concurrently with trainings on Results-Based Accountability and effective use of data
- Contribution to and ranking of an "idea bank" populated by attendees
- Opportunities to participate in regional conference
