BECOME A TRUE BELIEVER TODAY

Help us make a difference in the local, organic food community.

Join Our Cause

We are just like you. We are teachers, business executives, parents, retirees, students, chefs, scientists, policy-makers, gardeners, activists, techies...we are all True Believers in the organic movement. We share a unique dedication to eating clean, nutritious food and a belief that our food web is a symbiotic unit that starts with the health of our soil.

Won't you become a member today? The more members we have, the greater impact we can make on our regional food system.

The organic food movement begins with our small scale farmers but it's up to you, the eater, to protect organic and sustainable food production in the Garden State. Whatever affects the purity of our food system is a concern and action item for NOFA-NJ. From clean water to irrigate with to right to farm issues; from dumping fracking waste near farms and waterways to food labeling; from sustainable cooking classes for kids to cleaner foods in our hospitals and schools. NOFA-NJ strives to educate diverse audiences and to help build and sustain local organic farming operations as well as organizing community building events and activities.

Be part of like-minded people working towards an organic Garden State.
