MILLENNIUM STRATEGIES

Before Natural Disaster Strikes

Millennium Strategies' Emergency Management Disaster Recovery and Sustainability Division is excited to announce the addition of Mr. Adam Ferguson as a Senior Advisor to the Millennium Strategies' team. Adam is an expert in the field of hazard mitigation, with years of experience in relation to managing projects that reduce the potential for loss of life and property.

With the addition of Adam's technical expertise, Millennium Strategies is fully prepared to assist your community in taking action now, before the next disaster, to procure funding for and implement critical flood control projects which will protect the safety, security and long-term well-being of your residents.

Our team of experts stands ready to evaluate the current risks in your community, guide the development of grant applications to mitigate those risks and ensure the proper use of funds. In the world of hazard mitigation funding, timing is everything, and those who take a proactive approach will always have the best chance of success.

We encourage you to contact us today, and would be happy to offer you and your staff an analysis of the risks in your community which can be mitigated through grant programs that are currently available.

In order to schedule a discussion with our team, please click on either Susan Scavone or Dave Jenkins today!
