Join Us for a Day of Action
to Ban Fracking Waste
Dumping in New Jersey

Do you want your drinking water tainted by radioactive elements, heavy metals and carcinogens?

We bet not, yet that could very well happen because Governor Chris Christie has vetoed not one, but two bipartisan bills banning fracking waste dumping in New Jersey.

To ensure the health of our precious water resources, public health and environment, join Raritan Headwaters Association and other members of the NJ Frack Waste Coalition on Thursday, December 17 to tell legislators we need a statewide ban on fracking waste dumping.

We'll hold a kick-off meeting at 10 a.m., after which lobby teams will be dispatched throughout the Statehouse to speak with legislators on the need to override the veto. The Senate is scheduled to vote on the override at 2 p.m. that afternoon.

Join us on December 17 in Trenton. Because our very lives – and those of future generations to come -- depend on your support.
