Help cancer patients get to treatment

Dear ?,

Imagine being diagnosed with cancer, but having no way to get to treatment. This is a problem John knew all too well.

"I don't have family in the area, so without the American Cancer Society, I would not have been able to get to most of my appointments. Road To Recovery drivers helped me beat cancer by making sure I got to the treatments that saved my life."

Every day, cancer patients in your area face the same problem as John. Help them get to their appointments by becoming a Road To Recovery volunteer.

In our Road To Recovery program, volunteers use their own vehicles to drive cancer patients to and from their appointments. This rewarding experience allows you to give back on a flexible schedule that works for you. You'll meet incredible people and be able to provide encouragement to cancer patients when they need it the most.

Don't believe us? Listen to what Pamela loves about being a volunteer driver.

Each year, the American Cancer Society provides over 283,000 rides to and from appointments for over 15,000 patients, but there are more people who need our help.

Volunteers are urgently needed in your area. Even if you can't drive, there are other ways you can help the Road to Recovery program.

Please don't let another patient in your area miss potentially life-saving cancer treatment appointments. Sign up to become a Road To Recovery volunteer today.
