Announced by Loretta E. Lynch,
U.S. Attorney General

@nj_reentry #ReentryWeek

Thank you for your continued support, advocacy, and commitment to serving those reentering society from incarceration. Next week has been declared "National Reentry Week" by U.S. Attorney General Loretta E. Lynch, and our team at the NJRC requests your help in spreading the word.

We will be sharing client stories and graphics on social media from our sites in Jersey City, Kearny, Newark, Paterson, and Toms River throughout the week. We encourage you to share these materials on your social media channels, including Facebook, Twitter, and/or Instagram. When posting, please be sure to incorporate the official hashtag: #ReentryWeek.

For your convenience, we have created a #ReentryWeek page, where we have already posted two graphics for you to save on your mobile device or desktop. We will update the page with new content daily, beginning on Sunday, April 24.

Earlier this week, I had the opportunity to speak at the New Jersey Business & Industry Association's (NJBIA) "Workforce Development Summit," where I discussed the necessity of employment as a critical component of successful reentry. You can watch the video by clicking on the image above, which we will also share during National Reentry Week.

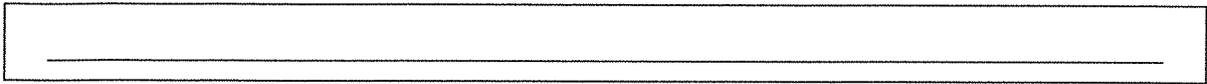

Please follow us on our social media channels:

- Twitter: NJ Reentry
- Facebook: NJReentry
- Instagram: NJ Reentry

Thank you very much for your support in helping us change the face of reentry in America!
