Exploring an agenda for Rutgers' stewardship of the Raritan River, basin and bay

The 8th Annual Sustainable Raritan River Conference

Friday, June 10, 2016
Douglass Student Center
Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey
100 George Street, New Brunswick, NJ

Early registration ends May 18

In celebration of Rutgers University's 250 Anniversary, the focus of the 8th Annual Sustainable Raritan River

Conference is to showcase the University's efforts in the Raritan Basin, provide a forum for identifying a University-wide agenda for stewardship of the Raritan, and to establish a network for collaboration among University-based research, extension and outreach-efforts related to the Raritan Basin.

This conference will explore work that Rutgers' faculty, staff and students, and some of our Collaborative partners have been doing in the Raritan region in the areas of water quality; wetlands, forestry and ecosystems; watershed systems and management; public access and citizen science; and resilience, stormwater management, and flooding. Click on this link to see the conference agenda, or follow this link to view other conference details.

Our conferences typically draw upwards of 200-250 attendees from state, local and federal agencies, non-profit organizations, businesses, philanthropic organizations and other organizations committed to watershed management and stewardship of the Raritan environs.

Continuing education credits have been requested.
